

The South Carolina
Conference of the IPHC
Welcomes
Pastor Stacey Hilliard

Rev. Stacey D. Hilliard is a native of St. Louis, Missouri and Hazlehurst, Mississippi. He is the founding pastor of Breakthrough Revival Center Church, Inc., where he served for more than a decade and made Greenville, NC his home. He and his wife, Bobbie, have two daughters, Hannah and Phoebe.

Pastor Hilliard united with the International Pentecostal Holiness Church in February 2006. In March 2007, the North Carolina Conference Executive Council appointed him to serve in the position of African American Coordinator. He also served as a member of the Bishop's Advisory Council with concurrent service on the Evangelism and Missions Board of the North Carolina Conference. In August 2009, Pastor Hilliard was elected to serve on the North Carolina Conference Executive Council and was the first African American elected as a North Carolina Conference Executive Council member.

From 2010 – 2017 Pastor Hilliard served as the IPHC African-American Coordinator and as the Church Multiplication Director for Evangelism USA with offices in Oklahoma City at the Global Ministry Center. Currently Pastor Stacey serves as church planting specialist with the PacWest Conference.

Guest Speaker
Mrs. Mandy Polk

Mandy is the wife of Rev. Tom Polk who currently pastor The Well at Jones Swamp PH Church in Walterboro, SC. She has been by his side in ministry for 15 years ministering in Children's Ministry, Women's Ministry, Sunday School, Outreach/Media Ministry and singing on the Praise Team. Mandy is a Rural Mail Carrier and has worked for the United States Postal Service since 2001. God completely transformed her when she and Tom lost their 11 year old daughter Kayla, who had Cerebral Palsy in 2003 after a brief illness. She experienced the peace and comfort of God like never before and that began her chase after God. She is passionate about making a difference and helping others discover their true identity in Christ.
